The Little Veggie Patch Company

There was a time when most homes had a vegetable patch, but slowly over time it was replaced by flowerbeds and lawns. Installing and maintaining chemical-free vegetable gardens for people who don't have the time to do it themselves is the main aim of The Little Veggie Patch Company. Benefits include a sustainable lifestyle and delicious home-grown vegetables. Whether you live in an apartment or on a large block of land, they cater for all – from the basic one-sleeper high 'Field Potato' to the three-sleeper high 'Black Russian Tomato' with seating, irrigation system and a maintenance visit.
